What others say about us

Karen Phillips, Deputy Principal at Coleg y Cymoedd

'Coleg y Cymoedd (formally known as Coleg Morgannwg) has engaged with Capital Law to provide us with legal support over the last four years. The support provided has always been of a high standard and has been very responsive to our needs.'

The Legal 500

'Capital Law LLP has strength across public and private sector employment matters. Education expert Sian Davies is very well respected in the region, acting for clients such as Glyndyr University and Coleg Sir Gar. Viv Du-Feu is highly rated for senior executive exit strategy advice. Also recommended are reorganisation and mediation expert Elin Pinnell; 'business-minded' retail specialist Nia Cooper; and industrial relations expert Richard Thomas. Clients include JoJo Maman Bebe, Ocado, LOROL, and Cardiff City Transport.'

Chambers & Partners

'The "first-class, highly accessible and supportive" employment team at Capital Law has built a stellar reputation for its ability to deliver broad spectrum advice for some of the UK's most notable businesses. The team is active within the education and retail sectors counting Ocado Group and Segal Europe amongst its roster of private sector clients. The team also works with a variety of public sector bodies including the UK Intellectual Property Office and is called upon to provide training, strategic and contentious advice on a range of issues. Sources say: "Capital Law has strength in depth and the team has a good grasp of key topics."

'The Cardiff-based real estate team at Capital Law is "very client-focused" and "gets to the point of the real issues quickly." The team's expertise covers a wide range of property issues, and key clients include Apollo Cinemas, Santander and Associated British Ports. Recently it advised UWIC on the £6.6 million sale of the Colchester Avenue Campus. Helen Thomas heads up the department, and sources comment that she is "very approachable, proactive and reactive."
